

David Davis

UI Developer at Apple

Summary

Hello, my name is David J. Davis, I'm an end-to-end developer and I currently work for Apple, Inc. Previously I worked with several of the top digital agencies in the Silicon Valley for clients medium to large such as Chevron, Cisco, IBM, Charles Schwab, PG&E and Fisher Investments.

I'm a U-shaped web developer: someone with a deep breadth of knowledge in a variety of languages. I'm versed in building code that is well documented and efficient; a passion for elegance and simplicity with a background in design.
